Cookies

A cookie is a small amount of data, which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Cookies are sent to your browser from a web site and stored on your computer's hard drive. Every computer that accesses our website is assigned a different cookie by us. This may be used for different purposes, like to save your preferred language or skip an intro that you have already seen.

WHICH MEANS

To identify you electronically, a cookie will be stored on your computer. We have a "remarketing" tool running that allows us to take note of your visits to our site and show you relevant ads on our website and across the Internet. You can always opt out.

Google Analytics and Remarketing

We use a service provided by Google called Google Analytics (GA). GA permits us to reach people who have previously visited our site, and show them relevant advertisements when they visit other sites across the Internet in the Google Display Network. This is called "remarketing" or "retargeting".

Cookies can be used to track your session on our website, to serve customized ads from Google and other third party vendors. When you visit this website, you may view advertisements posted on the site by Google or other third parties. Through first-party and third party cookies, these third parties may collect information about you while you are visiting this website and other websites. They may use this data to show you advertisements on this website and across the Internet based on your prior visits to this website and elsewhere on the Internet. We do not collect this information or control the content of the advertisements that you will see.

Opting Out

You may be able to opt out of customized Google Display Network ads by visiting the Ads Preferences Manager (<http://www.google.com/ads/preferences/>), and the Google Analytics Opt-out Browser Add-on (<http://www.google.ca/ads/preferences/plugin/>).

Your use of this website without opting out means that you understand and agree to data collection to provide you with remarketing ads using GA and cookies from other third party vendors based on your prior visits to this website and elsewhere on the Internet.
